DEDERICK'S CELEBRATED

Parallel Lever Horizontal and Vertical Portable and Stationary Hay Presses are so constructed that they are taken apart at the mannfactory, shipped in seven conveniently handled pieces to any part of the eouthtry, and (by the printed directions accompanying each Press) put tegether again, all ready for operation, in a few hours, by any two or three farmers without the aid of a mechanic—which are so portable that they can be moved from one field or farm to another, and in one of which two men, and a boy to drive the horse, can bal from six to eight tons of has per day, according to the size of the press. They are now being supplied to all parts of the country, and in every particular giving, as warranted, the highest satisfaction. Circulars, with full description, sizes, weight, and prices, may be had of the manufacturers' agents.
